Cassia School Board Trustees hired an administrator for Oakley High School at their monthly meeting, Tuesday, April 11. Oakley High School will welcome David Wagner as their new administrator starting August, 1.

Mr. Wagner is currently teaching math (Calculus, College Algebra, Statistics) at Declo High School and will transition to this position early summer. Mr. Wagner spent his growing up years in Salmon, Idaho and earned his Bachelor's degree from Idaho State University. He taught at Twin Falls High School and Hagerman High School before moving to Las Vegas, Nevada where he taught for 20 years, including 11 as an administrator. While in Nevada, he earned his Master's degree at UNLV.

In speaking of his views on the role of an educator, Mr. Wagner says that he will "serve as a facilitator in the educational process. He wants to work alongside teachers to provide the best educational opportunities. I will serve as an advocate for student achievement and for district resources to help those goals." He is excited to get to know the community and work in the school.

Mr. Wagner has been married for 40 years to his high school sweetheart and has 3 children and 9 grandchildren. When he is not in the classroom, he enjoys fishing, hunting and golf.

A committee of Oakley patrons conducted the screening and interview process that had a pool of 23 candidates. The final hiring decision was made by the School Board. He will replace Mr. Michael Corbett who will serve as the Vice Principal to Dworshak and Mountain View Elementary Schools.

Mr. Wagner will be at Oakley High School, Monday April 17th from 2:30-3:30pm to meet teachers and will stay on from 3:30-5:00pm to greet community members. We invite patrons to come by the school.
